Alice M. Adams, RN, BA

I am a legal nurse consultant who works with personal injury, workers compensation and medical malpractice attorneys in Georgia.

These attorneys recommend me because I know medicine and its application to law.

I use authoritative literature to support a worthy case, and can turn a 2000 page hospital record into a targeted 20 page chronology.

I am past Program Chair and 2011 President of the American Association of legal Nurse Consultants, Atlanta Chapter.

I am also a contributing author to the AALNC's textbook: Growing Your Practice: Resources, Tools & Reports, and am developing a series of webinars for legal nurses.

Skillsets

- Screening for merit
- In-depth case analysis
- Chronological timelines
- Location of expert witnesses
- Authoritative research
- Assistance with depositions

Medical Case Consultants will organize, analyze and research the medical aspects of your case.

Experienced record review detects document abnormalities, identifies the strengths and weaknesses that will affect the ultimate outcome of litigation, uncovers pre-existing conditions and compares medical records to stated complaints.

When it is time for expert witnesses, a large professional database is in place to meet that need.

Member, American Association of Legal Nurse Consultants.

Medical Case Consultants is an Atlanta-based legal nurse consulting firm, assisting in all medical aspects of healthcare litigation.

Extensive expertise in:

- workers' compensation

Legal nurse consultants are nurses uniquely qualified to interpret medical records.

Nurses know the standards of care, the proper content of hospital and patient records, and recognize when critical data is missing or altered.

Legal nurse consultants understand disease processes and expected course of recovery. We know where to find up-to-date authoritative medical research.

Nurses are accustomed to talking to patients as well as professionals. This flexibility allows us to translate complex medical terminology into language that is understood by judges, juries and other attorneys.
